Chuck,

Reference our discussion would you please take a look at these two resumes and give me your opinion as to whether they could do the job of providing a study on Agency psychologists activities.

1 - 3: They look excellent as a team: Chapman, with his previous exposure to us, looking beyond special interests from an O & M standpoint; [REDACTED] providing psychiatric credentials. Our particular concerns are more behaviorist than Freudian and also include testing in assessment but this looks like a winning team.

One thought which you might have had -- to combine both capabilities in one man -- [REDACTED] himself??
